“ I thought my daddy would be here forever, but forever just isn't long enough for the people you love.

Daddy left a huge void, but he also left a very strong family that he created and headed.

I just wanted to thank him publicly for being a Daddy, and not just a father.

Today, people have gotten it wrong.

"My baby's daddy" is usually what's said these days. I wish they'd stop saying that phrase.

Anyone can father a child, but to be a Daddy?

James C. Mathes was a "Daddy", and I'll miss my daddy for the rest of my earthly life.

I'll see you after my last breath, Twin, or in my dreams...

Whichever comes first.

I love you now and forever...

“ I will miss you Uncle Slick Rick. I will not forget the days playing in the house and how you patiently waited for me to overcome my shyness each visit when I visited with my parents. You the lead, guided and provided wisdom for my dad, uncle and cousins. Your jokes and methods of simplifying others' problems lifted many spirits.

You are missed dearly Uncle James
