May God Bless you all in the loss of Annie. Annie and I attended Western Illinois University together. Annie was the life of the party. Annie loved to cook fried chicken based with onions. We would laugh, eat and play cards. There was much fun we had at WIU. I was saddened when I received the news about her passing. However, we know our God never makes mistakes! Annie is at peace. Annie you will be missed!

“ A Sisters Love ...

The Purposed Expression of Annie Marie Johnson's Life....

Family called her Marie but friends called her Annie. She was born on August 19, 1960 to parents John L. Johnson and Bernice Johnson in beautiful sunny Melbourne Florida. Annie was the second child to the oldest “Angela Sykes”. She attended Western Illinois University to pursue studies in both Psychology and Music. Her return home landed her a job with Chase, formerly known as Bank One as an entry clerk then a supervisor before retiring to encounter her dream of becoming a writer. She tackled this opportunity with her whole heart landing 14 publications.

Family was also important to Annie. She had the greatest love for her nephew Marcus. She suffered the greatest loss of another tremendous love which was her mom in 2009. Long conversations with her dad were treasured.

Occasional chats with her brother tickled her. All the wonderful experiences shared with extended family over the years during holidays, you would not believe how grand they were.

Old friends and new acquaintances were also a constant contact for her.

Some lost some gained as life brings change to all of us. Annie was a member of the Household of Faith, she received Christ

*early in life as her mother demonstrated and practiced this belief. She learned to believe
God is truth and she expressed this truth in many of her writings.*

*Annie will be forever remembered by her sense of humor, quick tongue, generosity and determination for her claim in this world. She leaves temporarily
behind her father John L. Johnson, sister Angela Sykes, nephew Marcus Sykes,
brother Tony Johnson, sister Tanisha McCraney and many more close and lovely family members (aunts, uncles, cousins). She has gone to meet her maker, mom and a host of grandparents, cousins, uncles, and friends. Until I see you again
Marie I will always love you and the life we shared. Peace!*

~your big sister Angie~
