“ My granddaddy....The last time I saw your smile was when I bought your last pair of shoes. You were so excited and called all around town to tell everyone you could....Let's not forget that everytime before we hung up the phone, you'd give me a word, "lock your doors, watch your surroundings, these people are crazy out here, if they try to rob you of your car just give it to 'em, I love you" I love you too, granddad.

“ You are a great, loving, faithful man to those around you. I will miss hearing you say, “ how those boys doing?”. From the moment I remember meeting you, you greatly impacted our family, and I am forever grateful for your presence. I love you, Glen, and until we meet again.

“ The life that you lived speaks for itself and it shows through your family. A man who deserves to be honored for his love, loyalty and dedication to those that he cared for is what this world needs more of. Your transition has inspired me to appreciate every moment as if it was my last and I'm grateful to have met you.

“ Out of all the memories I have of u, I remember how u always asked me when you gonna walk me and my lady down the aisle. You were a sharp dresser and u always got hyped when u saw me or my brother dressed up. It hurts that you’re no longer here with us but I’m at peace that you’re at peace. Love, Bill.

“ Dad I will truly miss hearing your voice and receiving greeting cards. You would always ask me daughter are you ok. I knew what ok meant. As you would say your first born.

“Dad, I know u belong to God but I am so broken on the inside. Crying as I write this. The bond we had was amazing. You were the most consistent man I've ever had in my life. You ALWAYS took care of me up until u got sick no matter what. I'm gonna miss u calling me every 2 days. Im gonna miss our Sunday dinners. I'm gonna miss those moments u shared with the twins. I'm going to miss ringing ur bell. I'm glad i had children for u to witness and see them. I'm gonna miss ur stories. I'm gonna miss ur love. Dad, I am not ok and dont knw if i will be any time soon. God help me. Rest peacefully as u deserve to. Love ur baby daughter, Jordan and the twins.
