“ I am Georgia Johnson Banks, I've been knowing that for a few short years. I do remember how passionate she was with her Mary Kay business and agreed to give a showing at one of my friends house who had more room. It was just few of us, we fell in love with Pat and we followed her, to her various events to support her. Once I joined her for her birthday at an all- you -can- eat brunch at one of the hotel spots south of the Midway airport on Cicero. We would have long talks on the phone she was so funny!! 🤔.. the last few times over this past year I invited her to breakfast with about 10 ladies.. they all bought product to support her, she was a blessing to me as well.. she showed up at one of our organizations events (UNIA), to show "her" support. One of my most cherished was when she came to my wedding... She called me sometime afterwards, and bragged and bragged of the beauty of it all... and what a great time she had. I cherish our short and sweet budding relationship. I will forever carry her memories in my heart. May God bless her family 💕

“ Pat and I have been friends for almost 30 years. She was my Mary Kay Consultant and always was excited to introduce me to new products. When I relocated to Arkansas a few years ago and got married, she insisted on being my makeup artist and traveled there for the event. We've shared many laughs over the years, but I will always remember her phrase, "I got my own set of issues." Vanessa Anthony

“ I remember meeting you and being struck by your lively personality. You took the time to share the Mary Kay opportunity with me, and in doing so, you became my friend and aunt all in one. We would laugh and talk about our family backgrounds, discovering we had more in common than we thought. You loved to sing and praise the Lord, and though I can't recall all your sayings, they always brought joy. You gave me tips on budget-friendly recipes and shared so much with me. Your heart was golden! I miss you, Aunty. You are one of my true friends, irreplaceable in every way.

“ Pat and I became fast friends when she was recommended to me to be a vendor at my networking events. She was so funny!!! And like someone else said she loved to eat. (So do I.) We had a blast always! I'll surely miss her straight-forwardness! Pat, thanks for being a good friend!
