“ I wanted to extend my deepest condolences to you Della and your family. Our moms are so special to us. They are usually the first people we see and get to know. They Love us, Care for us, and stand for us. We laugh with them, cry with them, get mad at them, and make up with them, as they age we take care of them and become their protector as they have done for them.

The order we believe is that we should bury our parents and not our children. Della you and I have had to do that and now our parents. We are Blessed to have had our moms for as long as we did. They lived God's promise 3 score and 10. There are many children who have not had the opportunity such as you.

Each person has a different experience with transition so I can't say I know how you feel but I can say I know someone who can help you make it through this time and that is God. God will comfort you, guide you, hold you close, he will turn your sorrow into joy. The sadness will turn to happy memories. Thank the Lord for Moms. Sending my Love to you and your family.
