“ Hi Sophia, This is Margaretha. I'm at my job, and you came to mind. I thought I would Google your name, and here you are. As I look at your photo, I recognized you right away, always a pretty young lady. We played as little children together for a long time. We attended the same high school, and then we went our separate ways. What I will always remember about you is your loyalty as a friend. I will remember your very positive energy, and I just enjoyed hangin' with ya! We had so many laughs, and I have NEVER forgotten you for one second. It's great to read all of the beautiful cards. They are right. Your light did shine, and has been shining for a LONG time. What can I say - Sophia Loren Emory is now hangin' out with Jesus, the Christ! YOU GO GIRL!

“ What can I say..... I miss you already. I miss your laughter, I miss your Hallelujah praises always to God. I miss our lonnng conversations about Jesus and good food. You were so kind and generous to me. You made everybody laugh. Like Dad you lit up the room when you walked in. You will always be in my thoughts. Your Big Sister!!❤️❤️💔💔

“ *My SisterFriend, I miss you dearly. I miss our calls, talking about everything and nothing at the same time...
Thank you Father for receiving my angel 🧡🧡🧡*

“ My dear Sophia, you were such a precious jewel and a exceptional person. You always wanted to do things your own way. We wanted you to come home, but you didn't until the Holy Spirit directed you. It was a joy to spend your last days together praying, singing, reading scriptures , talking about old times and memories, yes and watching gun smoke. Thanks be to God, through all of your suffering, your faith did not waver. I remember you telling me, mama thanks for taking me to Sunday school. Love you so much and always will. You are now in God's hands. Mama
