“ I had the pleasure of meeting Miss Stacy a couple times thru a mutual friend. She was so supportive and happy for those she considered friends and welcoming of newcomers. I'll remember her smile and her being a beacon of light. This was a tough loss to hear of. My condolences to the family and her friends.

“ One of the sweetest, kindest and most genuine people I've ever met. Her laugh, her smile and her love will rest forever in my heart. To her family, one day the pain you feel now, will be replaced with joyous memories. Take one day at a time. God bless you and may God Forever be pleased with Stacey.

Such a beautiful soul - her Smile would light up a room. I had the pleasure of meeting her through family members, which turned into us bonding and becoming family, as well. We would often have indept discussion about being educators, sharing laughs, and having great times with Lisa and Missy at family events. Her memory will be cherished forever!!!

“ Ms. Whitsett had a special way of making everyone feel important to her. She was a dedicated educator, a loyal friend who kept her challenges to herself, and her warm smile could make you feel right at home. After the loss of her mother, something in her spirit changed. I would often ask, “When are you going to Mississippi?” and she would share her plans with me.

About a month ago, we spoke and thanked God together for her return home from the hospital. I reminded her about the glasses she had given me when she was moving, and I told her we still needed to toast to her health. Never in a million years did I imagine that such a beautiful soul would be taken from us so soon.

To her daughter Mc, her twin sister, and her dear sisters and friends —please accept my deepest sympathy.

“ Stacey and I met while working at an alternative school. We became fast friends. Little did I know that years later she would become my mentor when I was going through the membership process for Sigma Gamma Rho. She was one of the sweetest and supportive people I've ever met. I'm truly blessed to have known her and I will miss her so very much.
